WEAK POINTS IN NAZI'S GRIP ON EUROPE SHOWN IN SURVEY

BY JOE ALEX MORRIS

Copyright 1938 By United Press

Europe today entered one of the most significant phases of political maneuvering since the four power peace conference at Munich.

The realignment of European powers which began at Munich with Germany in a dominant role is beginning to shake down, and the real basis for future peace efforts may be laid this week when British Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain goes to Paris for conferences with French Premier Edouard Daladier.

Weak points in Germany's position astride central Europe are developing. The Nazi anti-semitic excesses have stiffened both Great Britain and France in their dealings with Fuehrer Adolf Hitler; have prompted both nations to announce flatly that they are not considering return of pre-war German colonies.

Furthermore, while Britain and France have turned away from Germany and toward better relations with Fascist Italy, the Reich has run head-on into grave trouble on the path of her "march to the East." This has developed at two points in particular:

Resent Action
1.—Hungary and Poland, flanking the German eastward march through Czechoslovakia, resented the intervention of Hitler which

PROMOTION OF CLASS HATRED
BY U. S. OFFICIALS CHARGED

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Chairman Dies, D. Tex., of the house committee investigating un-American activities, said today that secret testimony of federal officials before the committee Saturday revealed "alarming" indications that certain individuals within the government are promoting class hatred.

Disclosing that the officials appeared before the committee Saturday, Dies said that the witnesses "don't want their names made public." He added that they testified under oath for the record.

He asserted that their testimony indicated a "very alarming" situation in the government. He asserted that it appeared there are individuals "who make class hatred their primary tactics and carry out the philosophy of men like David J. Sappos," chief economist for the National Labor Relations Board.

Dies last night made public excerpts from an article Sappos wrote for the December 1931 issue of Labor Age, in which Dies charged the economist advocated that workers use force against the capitalist form of government if political action failed.

Noting that Sappos had been quoted in morning newspapers as saying that this statement did not represent his own views but was a report of a meeting, Dies inserted the entire article in the committee record. He read from the context in an attempt to show that the excerpts he made public actually were Sappos' opinions.

He described Sappos as "typical of the economic crackpots who have come to Washington and who range from outright Socialists to Communists."

"This committee," he said, "in the limited time left to us, will expose as many as possible of these men."

He added that Sappos "doesn't even believe in the government he is working for."

Dies deplored "the use of the government machine—government publications—deliberately in promoting and spreading class hatred in the United States."

Olson Names Public Works Chief

L. A. MAN IS APPOINTED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Gov. Elect Culbert L. Olson today announced the appointment of Frank W. Clark of Los Angeles as director of public works, succeeding Earl Lee Kelly, resigned.

Clark's appointment to the $10,000 a year position was the first to be made by the new governor, who will take office next January.

My selection of Frank W. Clark for the position of director of public works is a case of the office seeking the man," Olson said in a formal statement. "I feel that I am fortunate and the state is fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Clark in this important position."

Executive
Clark has been general manager and executive vice president of the Consolidated Rock Products Corporation of Los Angeles for the past seven years and president of the Ruth Dredger Manufacturing Corporation. He has never held public office.

Olson said Clark is recognized as a national authority on irrigation and drainage problems, and has been actively identified with all phases of highway and road building, dam and levee construction.

Clark, who is 46, said he planned to confer with Kelly for several days, then return to Sacramento shortly before the first of the year to assume his new

COURT STANDS PAT ON PATENT RULING

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The Supreme Court, rebuffing an administration plea, today reaffirmed a patents decision of last May which was the subject of vigorous dissent by Justice Black.

The court's new decision in the patents case was reached by a division of 5 to 2 which found Justice Black again dissenting and Justice Reed joining in his dissent. Justice Roberts did not participate in the case.

Restriction Upheld
Chief point raised by the government in the case was the right of a patent holder to restrict the use to which his patent might be put.

Justice Brandeis, presenting the court's opinion, declared that federal patent laws clearly permit patent holders to restrict the use to which patents may be put by persons employing the patents under license.

In other actions today the court:

Upheld Tax
Agreed to hear argument in the Farnest manufacturing case, involving the right of employees who have engaged in a sit down strike to seek protection of the National Labor Relations act.

Plans for Strike Dropped By AFL
MARTINEZ, Cal., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Plans for a mass walkout of all A.F.L. building trades workers on construction projects in Contra Costa and Alameda counties, as a protest against signing of a C.I.O. contract on the strikebound Contra Costa conduit of the Central Valley water project, were postponed today.

While deputy sheriffs, called out by Sheriff John Miller for emergency duty, patrolled the conduit, F. A. Lawrence, of the Contra Costa Building Trades Council announced the work stoppage would be held in abeyance pending a meeting late today of the Athens Athletic Club in Oakland.

Lawrence was to meet with Jack Reynolds, secretary of the Alameda county building trades council and Joseph M. Casey of the international teamsters union, other labor officials, and spokesmen for the 22 contractors engaged on the Contra Costa conduit.

Czechs Face New Crisis

VIENNA, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The danger of armed conflict over Czechoslovakia's eastern frontier, involving Hungary and Poland and possibly Germany and Italy, increased today as new incidents occurred.

It was officially announced in Prague that Czech frontier guards had repulsed a band of Polish irregulars who crossed the frontier into the Czech province of Ruthenia. One Pole was killed.

Ready to March
Both Poland and Hungary were reported to be prepared to march into Ruthenia and eastern Slovakia at a moment's notice. Both nations have been reinforcing frontier troops.

It was said that they were ready to take advantage of any serious frontier incident for "police action" to preserve peace.

Both had been disappointed by their failure to obtain from the Vienna conference which settled Czech-Hungarian territorial disputes, enough Czech territory to give them a common border.

Observers believed that if the situation grew dangerous, Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini would take a strong hand. Italy and Ger-

DEATH OF NORWAY'S QUEEN IS MOURNED

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Great Britain and Norway joined today in mourning Norway's Queen Maud, who died of a heart attack yesterday in a private clinic here.

She was the "Little Queen," last surviving child of Edward VII and Queen Alexandra of Britain.

Her husband, King Haakon VII, had been almost constantly at her bedside since she underwent an abdominal operation on Wednesday.

Court in Mourning
King George VI, her nephew, ordered the British court to observe mourning for four weeks, ending Dec. 18. He and Queen Elizabeth returned hurriedly to London from Hertfordshire where they had been spending the weekend.

King George and Queen Elizabeth both met King Haakon at Buckingham Palace and extended their condolences. The latter's 35 year old son, Crown Prince Olaf, will arrive in London early Monday from Oslo.

For a half century Queen Maud was the Tomboy of the British royal family. Her father nicknamed her "Harry" because of her vivacity.

Both Queen Alexandra, of Britain and Princess Louise of Denmark, opposed the love match of Haakon, then Prince Charles, of Denmark and Maud, Charles, of the Netherlands. Queen Alexandra opposed it because of the close relationship.

But they were married July 22, 1896. In 1905 when Norway broke from Sweden, Charles, who was the second son of the Crown Prince, was called to occupy the new throne. He adopted the name of Haakon.

Although they were foreign born and at first resented by many Norwegians, their tact and democracy soon won over the majority of the country.

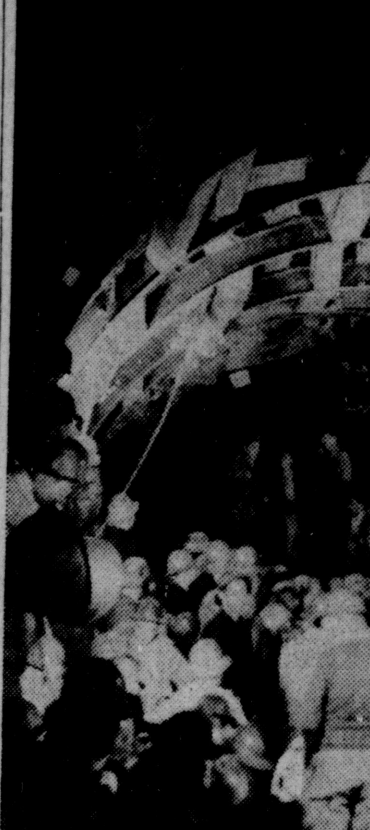

Queen Maud would have been 69 Nov. 25.

IRISH FAMILIES MOVED
DUBLIN, Ireland, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The government is planning to move hundreds of families from poverty-stricken areas in the barren mountains of western Ireland to fertile inland counties, it was announced today. The government set aside 150,000 acres for the colonists.

Experiment
Chamberlain revealed that a small experimental scheme in Kenya colony already has been approved and young men already selected for it.

"If they are successful, they will be followed later by their families," he stated.

As Miners "Holed Through" Huge Tunnel

In a chill and water-soaked tunnel 1400 feet below the surface of the San Jacinto mountains, miners Saturday "holed through" the last 12 feet of rock that separated the waters of the Colorado River from the Pacific and finished one of the major engineering feats of the world, the 13-mile Metropolitan Water District aqueduct tunnel.

Nearly 100 Orange county representatives of Santa Ana, Fullerton, and Anaheim, county members of the district were on hand for the "holing through" ceremonies, including city and county officials.

In the picture above, snapped by a Register photographer, may be seen part of the crew and spectators that crowded the shaft. Brilliant flood lights played over the scene for the benefit of press and news reel photographers who were present at the ceremonies. Among those attending the affair from Orange county were Mayor Fred C. Rowland, City Attorney Lew Blodgett, Col. S. H. Finley, of the MWD, Wendel Finley and Milan Miller, all of Santa Ana.

CALHOUN DEFENSE CONTINUES FIGHT

The defense of Charles Calhoun, 28, charged with murdering his 30-year-old stepfather, Clyde Dillinger, at Midway City last June, today resumed its fight to present evidence showing that mental weakness attended Calhoun from an early age when he suffered a blow on the head in an automobile crash, which produced unconsciousness.

Superior Judge James L. Allen, thus far refusing to admit such evidence on the ground that it properly belongs to a defense in an insanity hearing, observed that "unconsciousness only comes from a sane mind." But Defense Counsel N. D. Meyer kept up his argument that the testimony should be allowed, to show that Calhoun's mind, already of uncertain stability, snapped under the weight of wrongs at the hands of Dillinger, who had defiled Calhoun's wife and abused his mother, the defense claims.

The prosecution rested its case last Thursday, and the defense immediately began laying the foundation for its excuse of mental weakness, summoned Mrs. Cora Dillinger, 49, mother of Calhoun, to the stand as its first witness. Prosecution objection brought about the present impasse for the defense's maneuvers.

All Quiet In S. F.
After "Big Game"

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The San Francisco bay area returned to normal today after a "Big Game" weekend, which police described as "comparatively quiet."

Although 108 celebrators wound up in the city jail after California's 6-0 victory over Stanford there were no reports of widespread property damage.

In addition, no auto fatalities were traced to "Big Game" crowds on the highways although two were killed over the weekend in Northern California accidents.

BRITISH SPEED PLANS TO AID
REFUGEES FROM NAZI TERROR

LONDON, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The governor of Tanganyika has expressed the opinion that about 50,000 acres of land may be available for the large scale settlement of Jewish refugees from Germany. Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain informed the House of Commons today.

However, the governor said, Kenya, Chamberlain said "the possibility of a small scale settlement is indicated in Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland."

He declared a careful survey would be necessary before any scheme could be started for British Guiana, because of the backward agricultural development of the country and poor communications.

CALIFORNIAN REVEALS PLANS FOR PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The nation's first announcement of candidacy for President of the United States in 1940 was made today by Orville E. Jones, 52, field deputy in the San Francisco office of the federal internal revenue department.

Jones, a former newspaperman, announced said, "I, Orville E. Jones, herewith announce my desire as a Democrat to be elected the next President of the United States and I therefore call upon the Democratic party registrants of every state in the union to begin organization now to nominate electors for that purpose."

"May it be clearly understood that this announcement and call is not issued for any personal desire for wealth, power or fame but solely out of the desire to best serve the people of the United States by means of the authority and leadership of the United States."

Seven Crushed In Theater Panic

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Seven school girls were crushed to death and 30 were injured in a theater panic last night caused by a false cry of fire.

Several hundred persons attending a school benefit in the Eden theater rushed for the doors when a photographer set off a flash from behind the stage scenery. The flash caused someone to scream, "Fire."

In an effort to calm the crowd, gendarmes closed the doors. The crowd pouring down the stairs trampled children and others when stopped by the doors, which the gendarmes were unable to open again.

Noted War Pilot
Called by Death

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held here Wednesday for Lt. Oliver Pierce Kilmer, 59, retired naval aviator and World War veteran, who died at his home in El Cajon yesterday after a brief illness.

Lt. Kilmer was awarded the navy's Distinguished Service Cross during the war and was first senior squadron commander of the Pearl Harbor naval base at Hawaii. He also won distinction as being one of the first aviators to pilot a plane over the Swiss Alps.

The lieutenant was a native of Salina, Kans., and retired from active service in 1922.

CONTRACTOR FOUND DEAD
QUINCY, Cal., Nov. 21.—(UP)—John R. Martin, 45, logging contractor in Plumas county who operated near Chilcoquin, Ore., prior to 1930, was found dead in his logging camp residence today.

Authorities of Greenville said his death apparently was a suicide, despite widespread reports he was murdered. He is survived by his widow and one son.

BISHOP RAPS
HITLER MOVE

BERLIN, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Relations between Nazi Germany and the Catholic church were subjected to a new strain today as the government began independent efforts to find homes for German Jews abroad.

Bishop Konrad Van Preysing urged in a pastoral letter that Catholics repel Nazi efforts to win children away from the church.

The letter was read from pulpits in all churches of his diocese. It protested against action seeking to induce Catholic parents to send their children to non-confessional instead of confessional schools.

Cites Concordat
The pastoral letter said that letters had been sent to Catholic parents with children nearing school age. These letters urged the parents to sign an agreement to send the children to non-confessional schools.

The parents were reminded by Bishop Preysing of their right under the concordat with the Vatican, to insist that their children receive education in Catholic schools.

It exhorted them not to give up their claims and reminded them of their responsibility for their children's education.

From a well informed private quarter it was learned that Germany had been negotiating with several Central and South American countries for admission of a large number of German Jews.

Report Progress
Favorable progress was reported, especially with the Dominican Republic. The Dominican minister, it was learned, left for Munich possibly to confer with Fuehrer Adolf Hitler who is now at Berchtesgaden, his estate nearby. This, however, could not be confirmed.

The new Nazi policy appeared to ignore British and United States efforts to find homes for German Jews. It was accompanied by a press campaign which charged that the plight of German Jews was caused by foreign countries.

"Germany is doing everything possible to ease the situation of Jews who are willing to emigrate," the Voelkischer Beobachter, official newspaper of Vienna, said.

"The real enemies of the Jews are foreign countries which profess to love the Jews but do nothing to help them."

The newspaper recalled that a central emigration headquarters for Jews had been established Aug. 26 in the Rothschild palace. Within the shortest time possible all clearance papers are being provided for Jewish emigrants, the newspaper said. As many as

Vintners Launch Promotion Drive

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 21.—(UP)—Wine Institute officials today announced plans of California vintners for a united advertising and trade promotion campaign designed to increase national consumption of California wines.

H. A. Caddow, secretary-manager of the institute, said the program was the first of its kind ever attempted in America and constituted a "long delayed task" of educating the public to the use of wine as a table beverage and food accompaniment.

Caddow said financing of such a campaign had been solved under an agricultural market order issued by the California department of agriculture. The order provides for assessments of three-fourths of a cent per gallon on dry wine, one and one-half cents per gallon on sweet wine and three cents per gallon on grape concentrate.

GIRL NEAR DEATH IN ONE OF NINE MISHAPS

16 INJURED IN AREA TRAFFIC

Sixteen persons, one a girl motorcyclist who is in critical condition at Orange county hospital, were injured during the week-end, according to reports to police and hospital attendants of nine traffic mishaps.

Lola Bartol, 20, who is said to use the names, Ina Parks and Lela Darch, of North Flower, was riding on a motorcycle with Peter Landin, sailor of the U.S.S. Louisville, at 9:15 p.m. Saturday, going west on Chapman avenue, in Orange, when the motorcycle collided with an automobile just drawing from the curb.

The car was driven by M. Rennecker, Yorba Linda. In the collision, the motorcycle was hurled 40 feet, Orange police reported. The accident occurred near Batavia street. Landing was cut and bruised, the girl suffering basal skull fracture.

In a head-on collision near Diamond Bar ranch in Brea canyon, Hollis Houston, 36, Los Angeles, suffered fracture of a bone near his eye; his wife, Mrs. Elsie Houston, 31, upper and lower jaw fracture for which they are being treated at county hospital.

The accident occurred last night when Houston's car and one driven by Jack Morris, 18, Doheny Park, collided. Morris suffered shock, lacerations and bruises, his companion, Miss Dorothy Walker, 18, San Clemente, lacerations and bruises. Morris and Walker were taken to Valley hospital, Pomona, for treatment. All four will recover, police said.

Peter Thoresen, 27, Buena Park, was injured this morning at Pritchard and Commonwealth, Fullerton, when his car struck a fire hydrant. He was taken to Fullerton General hospital for treatment. Ed Seabourne was injured, assertedly by a hit-run driver Saturday at Commonwealth and Kellogg, Fullerton. The identity of the hit-run driver was established tentatively through a license number on the car. He is said to be a Huntington Park man or someone who was driving the Huntington Park man's car.

Four persons were injured at 15th street and Coast highway, Sunset Beach, Saturday evening when cars driven by John Jarvis, 40, Venice, and Jesse Keene, 71, Sunset Beach, collided. Jonnie Jarvi, 20; Jacqueline Jarvi, 8, Ruth Jarvi, 25, and Marion Keene, 66, Los Angeles camp grounds, were injured. Some were treated at Community hospital, Long Beach. Earl Kidd, 20, Tustin, was recovering today from injuries suffered at Tustin avenue and Fourth street, east of Santa Ana, Friday, when his car overturned after colliding with one operated by Fred Hemenway, 61, Newport Heights. Mrs. Fred Link, 43, Route 1, Anaheim, was recovering today, following an accident at Camille and Broadway Saturday afternoon.

Guy Newton, 38, Orange, was in county jail on drunk driving charge last night after his car collided with one operated by J. W. Decker at Washington and Flower. According to Decker's report to police, Newton and a companion ran from the scene. Newton later was arrested by Officers Chet Gross and William Nielsen when found walking east on 17th street. The companion was gone. A second companion, Frank Miller, 43, Orange, was detained by Decker and jailed on a drunk charge.

ACTION TABLED ON PUBLIC UTILITIES

Reports that the California Farm Bureau Federation has voted favorably on a proposed resolution in favor of public control of all utilities at the recent convention in Sacramento were erroneous, and the action was tabled, according to C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the local farm bureau office.

"It is true that the resolutions committee passed favorably upon the measure, although that was with restrictions, but at the general assembly vote it was decided to table the resolution," Marks said today.

"There was considerable discussion on the resolution and certain utilities were marked as being desirable for public ownership but the report that the Federation favored public ownership of all utilities was tabled," Marks said.

LOCAL MAN TELLS DETAILS OF GERMAN DRIVE AGAINST JEWS

"German Jews were responsible for the World War and during and after the war profited on the blood of Aryan Germans. The Jews are choking Germany and must be driven out."

This is the Nazi side of the Hitler persecution of German Jews that is being shown to the German people through propaganda in the German press and by an extensive cartoon program, according to Stanley Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Wilson, of Panorama Heights, who just recently returned from a six months tour of Europe and the British Isles.

Uses "Uncle Sam" The Nazi government is comparing the Jews to the "scoundrels and carpet-baggers" that flooded the South following the Civil War, Wilson said.

"One of the most effective parts of the propaganda program is the use of huge cartoons which portray the Jew as a menace to the peace and prosperity of Germany," Wilson said.

"I was considerably shocked to see one cartoon of 'Uncle Sam' in traditional top hat and striped trousers, with a large Jewish nose, extending a welcome to the fleeing Jews."

Tells of Youth Drive "I spent nearly all of my time in the 'Youth Hotels' that have been established throughout the continent and, from my observation, it appeared that the Nazi movement is a youth movement. Even young girls are pressed into the service of the government to help spread the propaganda of the government. At

40-Year-Old Dog Gets License Here

They're pacing Robert Ripley today at the J. C. Horton store, 517 North Main street, for "believe it or not," store officials have a 40-year-old dog there.

The old canine, "Nipper," by name, was furnished today with a dog license, issued through the regular channels at city hall and tied on by George Horton, "Nipper," who has traveled extensively in California, talks, barks and howls, is 40 inches tall and is now standing at the front door of the store.

Ed Brunelle of the Los Angeles firm of Leo J. Meyberg company with a branch in San Diego, came all the way to Santa Ana from the southern city to see that "Nipper" was being fed properly and given proper care.

"Nipper," who's really made mostly of papier mache, is on display here during Horton's 40th anniversary celebration. The public and Ripley are invited to see "Nipper" in action.

Martinsville, Ind., has the largest goldfish "farm" in the United States.

SEEK FIRE BUG IN HUGE BLAZE

FOULDER, Cal., Nov. 21.—(UP)—Authorities today were investigating possible incendiary in a fire which destroyed the Pacific Packing company plant, one of the largest packing houses in California, here yesterday. Loss was estimated at $500,000.

Although under control after a 12-hour fight in which firemen were aided by hundreds of volunteers, the fire will continue to burn for at least another 24 hours, Fire Chief Willis Robinson said.

Thousands of tons of raisins, dried peaches and dried apricots, all highly inflammable, were being allowed to burn out.

Sweeps Building
The fire was discovered by a night watchman shortly before 6 a. m. yesterday, and before it could be brought under control had swept through the rambling frame building which is two city blocks in length. Two Southern Pacific railroad freight cars also were destroyed.

Robinson said the blaze had gained much headway inside the building before it was discovered. Although the origin of the fire was not known, it was believed to have started outside the building, giving rise, officials said, to the possibility it may have been "set."

PLAN THANKSGIVING SERVICES THURSDAY

Thanksgiving Day services will be conducted on Thursday in Churches of Christ, Scientist. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Thanksgiving" and the Golden Text is from the Psalms: "Offer unto God thanksgiving; and pay thy vows unto the most High." Among the Bible citations in the Lesson-Sermon are these words of the Psalmist: "I will praise thee, O Lord, with my whole heart; I will show forth all thy marvelous works. . . . And they that know thy name will put their trust in thee; for thou, Lord, hast not forsaken them that seek thee." This verse from Habakkuk is also included: "For the earth shall be filled with the knowledge of the glory of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea."

In Lesson-Sermon The Lesson-Sermon presents also these words from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Spiritual living and blessedness are the only evidences, by which we can recognize true existence and feel the unspeakable peace which comes from an all-absorbing spiritual love."

During the service an opportunity will be afforded Christian Scientists in the congregation to give testimonies appropriate to the occasion.

"No More S. A. Wind," Says Paper

Following a rebuke from the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce, Los Angeles daily papers will not call the desert wind that is peculiar to Southern California a "Santa Ana wind."

This was the information received at the local chamber offices by President Fred Merker. A number of years ago the Los Angeles papers had agreed to call the wind storms by some name other than "Santa Ana" but recently used the term again. "We will be delighted to restore the old ruling on the phrase 'Santa Ana wind,'" one publisher wrote. I am sure I would have made the same complaint had I been in your position or had I been a resident of your section."

Hook Sheephead From H. B. Barge

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 21.—Large schools of sheephead are invading the waters around the Star of Hollywood barge, anchored three miles from the municipal pier. Anglers casting from the barge one day captured 5 of the deep sea fish weighing from four to 18 pounds each. In all more than 350 pounds of the fish were brought ashore, according to the new manager of the barge, Capt. Jack Tinsley Jr., recently returned from service in Uncle Sam's navy.

An angler from Santa Fe, N. M., spent a few hours fishing on the barge and caught 10 of the fish. Ray Torrey, of this city, caught the five largest fish.

Word was received today of the death of Joseph A. Zobel, 78, a retired farmer of Port Atkinson, Iowa, father of Mrs. G. L. Chamer, Route 4, Santa Ana. Besides Mrs. Chamer, Mr. Zobel is survived by three daughters residing in Iowa, and two sons.

Benefits Nation of Sufferers!

COLUMBUS, OHIO: For over 20 years Dr. F. M. Edwards (widely known physician) successfully treated scores of patients for constipation and the headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness which often result.

This wise Doctor knew liver bile must flow freely every day into your intestines or fatty foods can't be properly digested and you may become constipated. So he kept this in mind when he perfected his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are harmless, yet they assure gentle, thorough bowel movements and ALSO help stimulate bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

CALIFORNIA MARKETING GROUPS LEAD IN U. S. VOLUME SURVEY

Headed by the citrus industry, California farmers' cooperative and purchasing associations take first place in volume of business transacted by co-operatives in the United States according to figures obtained in a nationwide survey of farmers' co-operatives completed today by the Farm Credit Administration.

The figures were released today by the Berkeley Bank for Co-operatives. The 504 marketing and purchasing associations in the state with 88,600 members did a total cooperative business of $315,000,000.

First in Cooperative
The Bank for Co-operatives at Oakland, which conducted the survey, estimated that over 85 per cent of California's production of citrus fruit moves to market through cooperative associations and almost 90 per cent of the state's walnut crop is handled through a producers' cooperative organization.

California ranks first in the cooperative marketing of fruit and vegetables and has maintained this leadership for the past forty years. Over one-fourth of all the active fruit and vegetable associations in the country are located in the state and these associations handle over half of the cooperative fruit and vegetable business in the United States.

200 in Exchange
The California Fruit Growers' Exchange, a federation which handles oranges, lemons and grapefruit, is the largest and most outstanding organization in this field. This association, with headquarters at Los Angeles, is composed of about 200 local packing units representing more than 13,000 individual producers. For the year 1936 the association shipped a total of 63,292 carloads or 85 per cent of the total California and Arizona shipments of oranges, grapefruit and lemons. The Mutual Orange Distributors, Redlands, play a very important part in the citrus business and do a very extensive business. Although fruit and vegetables

MUZZLE-LOADER SWEEPS FIELD

More than 400 residents of Southern California met at the Sixth Annual Muzzle Loading Rifle matches and watched Glenn S. Echols, Laguna Beach, president of the Southern California Arms Collectors association, sponsors of the matches, take the championship title by winning four main events. The even took place at the Santiago Rifle range at Irvine park.

Highlight of the day was the pistol match in which a quarter of an inch on the last shot in the event decided a tie score in favor of Col. C. E. Stodter of San Diego, over Harold Polkington, of Riverside.

Uses 90-Year-Old Gun

Just as the results of the tie were announced and it was thought that the match was over with a score 47 out of 50, Harry Mann of Palm Springs, shooting a 90-year-old French dueling pistol, turned in a target of 49 out of a possible 50 to take first place.

Mann also won the revolver match, nosing out E. B. Workman of Orange, with a score of 47 out of 50. Both contestants were shooting Civil war cap and ball revolvers.

S. A. Woman Wins

The hotly-contested Women's match, that has become an annual feud between Mrs. Peggy Cowles, wife of Attorney C. C. Cowles of Santa Ana, and Mrs. Bunny Echols of Laguna Beach, was finally decided in favor of Mrs. Cowles with a score of 48 out of 50. Last year Mrs. Echols was the winner. Seven contestants were entered in the match.

Following are the results of the matches:

1. Flint lock—Glenn Echols, Laguna Beach; C. P. Soderberg, Pasadena.
2. 100-yard bullet—Glenn Echols; Chuck Bradford, Pomona.
3. First timers match—C. P. Soderberg; B. Holden, San Diego.
4. Fifty-yard off-hand match—Lowell Bolin, Los Angeles; Bill Knepp, San Fernando.

Other Winners

5. Women's match—Mrs. Peggy Cowles; Mrs. Bunny Echols.
6. 100-yard off-hand match—Bill Knepp; Glenn Echols.
7. Open sights prone, 100 yards—Glenn Echols, Bill Knepp.
8. 220-yard match—Glenn Echols; Chuck Bradford.

Arrangements for the match were made by Dr. Roy S. Horton and C. C. Cowles of Santa Ana and Col. C. E. Stodter of San Diego. Shelley B. Horton served as chief range officer, Francis Davis and Buck Bemis were clerks, and James Sweet, secretary of the Santiago Rifle and Revolver club, was official scorer.

The sun-spot cycle of 11.5 years is evident in weather records left in trees which grew thousands of years ago.

WORLD'S LARGEST STOCKYARD PARALYZED AS STRIKE OPENS

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(UP)—The largest stockyard in the world was paralyzed today by a strike of 500 stock handlers.

The strikers, employed by the Union Stock Yards and Transit Company which receives cattle, sheep and hogs and keeps them until they are sold to packers, walked out at the opening of the day's trading. The company employs 700 handlers.

Vote Against Action

Traders said that three hours after the scheduled opening of the market there were no transactions, although 200 workers affiliated with the American Federation of Labor still were on the job. It was reported that a handlers' union affiliated with the A. F. L. had voted against the strike.

The strikers are members of the Livestock Handlers' Union of the packing house workers' organizing committee, a Committee for Industrial Organization affiliate.

Claims of Each Union

The union has been demanding that the company recognize it as the sole bargaining representative, and grant time and a half for overtime and vacations.

Each union claims more than half of the stock handlers as members. A special detail of 100 police threatened a walkout just before the exposition.

It was reported that the strike would not interfere with the exposition because exhibitors send their own handlers with their entries.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to attack, soothe and heal infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for generations recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creomulsion you get a good dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and may be taken frequently by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund your money. Creomulsion is one word, ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief you want. (Adv.)

MARGE TASKERUD, Santa Ana, got 25.1 miles per gallon in Willys. She says: "Red Lion gives better mileage."

RAY JOHNSON, San Clemente Hudson owner, says: "If you want the peak of mileage, switch to Red Lion."

"Gilmore didn't pay one penny of remuneration to any of the drivers in this test—all records were checked by an independent Certified Public Accountant Firm."

That's what many of the '1000 motorists who made million mile test are telling their neighbors

Recently 1000 fact-finding motorists drove their own cars...big, small, old and new cars...cars of all makes...in an epic million mile test—which included country and traffic driving under all conditions. The entire group averaged 18.3 miles per gallon. A big majority reported Red Lion the king of mileage getters. Cash-in on your neighbor's experience...use Red Lion in your own car—always.

GOOD NEWS TO SUFFERERS

Stomach ulcers, one of the commonest complaints of mankind, have been conquered through the untiring efforts of medical scientists.

A whiff of medicinal "snuff" has proved successful in curing 55 out of 60 cases in which it was tested by its discoverers, Dr. M. Hill Metz and Dr. Robert W. Lackley of Baylor University Medical School in Dallas, Texas.

Announcement of the discovery and the result of test treatments was made by the Southern Medical Association.

A finely ground powder made from the rear half of the pituitary glands of animals is the special snuff used, according to the announcement. It is inhaled into the nose. Only two-thirds of a grain of the powerful glandular extract taken four times a day was reported sufficient to bring relief to a patient within two or three days. The cure is effected within 18 days.

The discovery will prove a boon to thousands of sufferers throughout the nation from a disease which medical scientists believe is due to nervous disorders resulting from worry or the wrong choice of foods.

PROFIT ON PACKAGE OF RAZOR BLADES

Does the seller of a package of razor blades, or the buyer of a package of razor blades, profit more? Few people realize that invariably the buyer on an article has a great deal more profit than the seller. This is true, especially if the buyer were obliged to produce the thing himself.

Just suppose how much energy it would take for an individual himself to make a razor blade. It would require hours and hours and days and days of a man's services and energy to make a razor blade. Yet, under the circumstances, because of the natural division of labor and the fact that the razor blade people make millions of them, a customer buys it for a minute or two of his work.

Of course, if we measure his profit between what one razor blade producer and another producer charges, the profit of the buyer is little, if the difference is regarded as profit. But, if he has to make it himself, his profit is many fold.

This is where most people become confused. They forget that the man who accumulates capital on a free market has to benefit his customers infinitely more than he benefits himself, before he has any profit. And if he does not benefit his customers, he loses his energy and he loses his original capital, which is as it should be. Profits should be a result of first benefiting the customer; second, benefiting the worker who produces it and, third, and last, benefiting the enterpriser.

FRENCH EMBARGO
(Times Pickayune)

A Shanghai dispatch announces reports there that the French authorities in Cochinchina have embargoed arms shipments destined for the Chinese armies. The embargo as described covers such materials and supplies as trucks and spare motor parts. It was proclaimed, we read further, "to remove friction with the Japanese." Tokyo's government some days ago served almost peremptory notice upon France that the supplying of war materials for China's defense through the French colony must be stopped. With the notice went a thinly veiled threat of reprisal against French interests in Asia unless the demands were complied with. Confirmation of the Shanghai news by the French government was forthcoming as this was written, but would not surprise Western observers, since France is committed to the "appeasement" policy which required comparable concessions on the European front.

If the Cochinchina door is closed against her, China's defense task will be rendered more difficult and the Chinese leaders will be more than ever dependent upon Red Russia for the aid which the democracies withhold from them. That aspect of the case goes undiscussed in the Occident but doubtless is being exploited by Russian agents throughout the Orient, and may have far-reaching long-run effects. China needs at this critical time more substantial and effective help than good wishes and "sympathy." If the democracies cannot or will not supply it, the Chinese may come to doubt their friendship—and its value.

A SCHEME TO DESTROY JOBS
(Chicago Tribune)

Prof. Thurman Arnold announced the other day that the Ford and Chrysler companies had made concessions in exchange for which he had decided not to prosecute them for alleged violations of the anti-trust laws. Prof. Arnold spoke in his official capacity as assistant attorney general in charge of anti-trust prosecutions. The companies, he said, had agreed, among other matters, to refrain from recommending in advertisements of their products the services of their respective finance companies.

In a lengthy statement Prof. Arnold conceded that such advertising has always been regarded as lawful, but in his opinion it ought to be forbidden. He has thus used the threat of prosecution to blackmail business men into the surrender of their lawful rights.

The calm assertion that ours is a government not of laws but of Thurman Arnolds brought numerous protests. Prof. Arnold, having meanwhile consulted the election returns, issued another statement explaining the first one. The second statement, though couched in the form of a retraction and obviously intended to allay suspicion, reaffirms substantially his original announcement. If the retraction statement means anything, it means that he will continue to use his blackmailers' technique to force business men to accept his notions as law.

Prof. Arnold, in his role of lawmaker, says that oil companies should not be permitted to advertise their own gasoline, but only the merits of gasoline in general. Likewise, dairy companies should be forbidden to seek patronage for their own product; their advertising should be confined to discussions of the merits of anybody's and everybody's milk. This is all said with a straight face, as if believed that business men as a rule would seriously consider spending money to promote the sales of competitors. Prof. Arnold is not that kind of a jackass. His campaign against advertisers' loyalty toward newspapers and other publications. Prof. Arnold's proposals make sense if they are regarded as part of the campaign against the press, a scheme to regiment it by destroying a principal source of its revenues and thus impoverishing it.

It is not likely that Prof. Arnold's notions will be accepted. If they do, the result will be the de-

Sharing The Comforts
Of Life

By R. C. Hoiles

PROFESSIONAL "LOVERS" OF THE POOR, THE WORST ENEMY OF THE WORKING MAN

Invariably the worst enemies of the working man and his family are those who publicly and constantly proclaim they are intensely interested in helping the poor and have some way of doing it by law. Unless we can get the great middle class of people in the United States to recognize that these men "with their hearts on their sleeves" are their worst enemies, our condition will continue to get worse.

And these men who are the working man and his family's worst enemies are none other than the professional uplifters of the poor, who are advocating short cuts to better wages by collective bargaining and by legislation, the working of which they cannot explain when asked to do so.

Any man who continues to advocate a theory of raising wages and purchasing power and cannot explain how it will work and says a public discussion will do no good, is worse than the man who carelessly leaves sticks of dynamite around for children to play with. He is the same kind of a man as a quack doctor who would prescribe the same remedy for all ailments. He is like the stock salesman who secretly sells speculative stocks to poor widows or gullible working men.

Most always these men, who pose as big-hearted humanists, associate themselves with some church as a cloak. They are not at all interested in the philosophy of Christianity, or in man's welfare, but they must be noticed and applauded by someone. They covet approbation. They have no ability themselves to help the poor. They usually advocate some fantastic theory of helping the poor by taking, by law, wealth which is needed for tools, from others and giving it to the poor. They will not bother to examine history to ascertain whether their plan of helping the poor by law has been tried and only made more people poor by preventing the use of better tools. They are not interested in practical ways of helping the poor. They only want to be noticed and applauded.

These self-seekers are more dangerous to society than the men who crave the power that goes with the acquisition of material wealth. If, however, this lust for power grows into a lust for material wealth, and the person uses a newspaper as a means of acquiring large wealth by posing as a "friend" of the poor and sells envy and hate, then the damage done to the poor becomes a racket on a large scale.

There are plenty of these who claim superior virtue in political offices, in the schools, colleges, churches, labor unions, business and in various kinds of welfare societies.

These pious professionals and the big racketeers who operate yellow newspapers for millions of profits are responsible for the United States being short 20,000,000 jobs. These are the men who brought about public opinion that created laws which resulted in the worst depression in our history, and yet, these men claim to be the poor man's friend.

So, the next time you hear one of these men, who pretend to be very humanitarian and so sympathetic for the welfare of the poor, refuse to answer questions, on the grounds that to do so would do no good, when he is challenged by a consistent person as to how his so-called humanitarian plans will operate, then you can mark this man down as a Pharisee praying in public, a pagan, a parasite, a faker, a demagogue, a mountebank and the working man's worst enemy.

The sooner people, who are really interested in the welfare of humanity, can smoke these people out so that the great mass of people can realize that they are not really interested in society, but only interested in satisfying their own ego, their own vanity, their own incompetence, and are posing as being friends of the poor solely for the purpose of getting the esteem, prestige and honor that goes with real honest truthful servants of mankind, the sooner we will start back on our way in establishing practical democracy and true philosophy of Christianity.

Do not let these professional "prayers" in public continue to go around in society wearing a false mask. Let's all unite and insist on these masks being torn off and hold these people up to the real condemnation which they are entitled to receive. This is necessary because this habit has grown on these men so gradually that many of them do not realize what they are. They actually have "kidded" themselves into believing that they are great humanitarians and someone must hold up a mirror to them so that they may see themselves as others see them.

A CLASSIC EXPRESSION

A contributor who had been accused by a Townsend advocate of being ignorant of the Townsend Plan, wrote the following:

"A parrot from the pension roost has squawked the well learned, oft repeated cry of 'Ignorance of the Townsend Plan,' to a recent contribution."

This certainly is a classical expression. It is what one constantly hears from the Townsend advocates—that a man who does not believe in it is ignorant of the Plan and they parrotlike repeat the "well learned, oft repeated cry."

struction of something like two-thirds of the jobs on newspapers and an equal or perhaps even larger loss of employment in the printing trades generally. Throughout the depression employment in the printing trades and especially on the newspapers has been maintained at a remarkably high level, higher than in almost any other important industry. Prof. Arnold's scheme, if carried into practice generally, would throw tens of thousands of skilled printers, pressmen, engravers, artists, writers, salesmen, out of work permanently. What the depression at its worst could not do, Prof. Arnold would accomplish, the sacrifice in the calculations of the administration, regarded as a small price to pay for a press as eager as Hitler's, Mussolini's or Stalin's to sing the praises of the administration.

OUTDOING DARWIN

(America's Future, by Frederick H. Stinefield)

Implicit in that Constitution, as clear as its words, is the determination that the individual is the true basis of government; that dependence on self, and not on government, is essential for freedom. The New Deal teaches that we are no longer to depend upon ourselves and upon our neighbors, nor even on the Lord—our dependence shall always and forever be in governments and in their officials; that our money shall come from them; that our property shall be used by them; that our principles of life shall be taken from them; that we shall do as they say; that there is security nowhere else; that men when they become possessed of political power, throw off the dress of humanity and become angels. Thus teaching a new lesson—that caterpillars, winding about themselves the cocoon of Federal officialdom, emerge angels. Even Darwin didn't go so far!

'Boss, I Got A Great New Idea'

General Hugh S.
JOHNSON
SAYS

CHICAGO, Ill.—The appointment of Mr. Landon to the Landon conference was a fine thing for the President to do—intelligent and patriotic even beyond its surface appearance. In times of great stress, this country has always closed up its ranks against exterior enemies no matter how hard its factions fought at home.

The 1916 election was so close that its outcome was not certain for 24 hours. Yet, within a few months we were at war. Never did this nation give a greater example of its solidarity. In positions of government you couldn't tell a Democrat from a Republican until close to the end of the War when a Cabinet member persuaded Mr. Wilson to draw the party line in a victory election. It was a tragedy—even fatal mistake.

Before that Mr. Wilson put more Republicans than Democrats in key positions. The Commander of the A. E. F. General Pershing was as near to being a Republican as any Army officer can be to any party. The Fuel Administrator, Dr. Garfield, was a Republican. So, as it turned out, was the Food Administrator, Mr. Hoover. The War Labor Policies Board—ancestor of the present Labor Relations Board—was headed by a former Republican President—Mr. Taft. The most important district draft board had for its chairman, Charles Evans Hughes, the narrowly defeated 1916 candidate. Key positions in the War Industries Board were nearly all held by Republicans, who were responsible for the Draft Act. In all Army and Navy promotions, politics were absolutely eliminated for the first time in our history.

The German challenge then, as now, was a challenge to democracy. Under Mr. Wilson's leadership this country proved that under war stresses democracy can thus make a collection of itself and be more efficient in both industrial and man-power mobilization than any dictatorship. If Mr. Wilson had continued that policy in the 1918 election and in appointing American delegates to the peace conference, it is possible to believe that the whole post-war history of the world might have been happily different.

Up to the Landon appointment, there has been absolutely none of this in New Deal appointments. It is true that Mr. Ickes, Mr. Wallace and, possibly, Mr. Hopkins and Miss Perkins, were Republicans in name. In fact, they were radical extremists. Up to now only Third New Deal echoes spoke in this administration. To make this more emphatic, the President sought to purge even his own party of any other species.

But the Landon appointment suggests a much greater opportunity. The question of migration and resettlement of persecuted Jews is one of the world's greatest problems. On such questions or organization for relief, we have one who was once recognized, by the nations, as the world's greatest expert—Mr. Herbert Hoover. In Belgium, Germany, Russia and the Near East, he successfully solved kindred problems. It is true that there is already a committee, headed by Mr. Myron Taylor, working in this field. Not for the moment to question Mr. Taylor's well-known ability, since his committee was formed, the whole nature of this problem has changed. It is now of vital international concern, beyond ability that requires world prestige. Both because of his earlier work and because he is a former President, Mr. Hoover would be an ideal selection and challenge the attention of all nations.

Fellow Citizens: Over the hill to the poor house is a vision that has haunted me all the days of my life. I was born on a farm back in the middle west near a place known as the county poor farm where all the old and helpless people of the county are kept, and while I was yet a little boy I knew that these old people were not living natural lives for I knew my own grandfather was always free to do the things that pleased him. He lived on a farm also and drove a nice dappled gray mare to a top buggy. He would drive to the village about three miles distant almost then through the heat of the day he would sit in a big arm chair under the locust trees. I often asked him why it was that the old people of the poor farm stayed home and hoed weeds out of the corn while he could go to town almost every day and then sit in the shade and read during the long summer afternoons. He would always say you are too young now son but some day you will know.

He was right, there came a time when I did know these old people were pioneers just like my own grandfather. They had helped to break the sod, plant trees and build houses but through misfortune had lost all they possessed. The poor farm consisted of about 200 acres and was under the supervision of the county commissioners. Every four years the farm was put up for bids and let to the best bidder, but the lowest bidder, but the lowest, as little as ten cents a meal has been bid for feeding these old people. The successful bidder is also entitled to all he can make on the farm with the help of the inmates.

Slavery was not much different from the routine on this county farm. The manager might have been another Simon Legree as far as anyone knew as there was no one to interfere in the way he managed the place. I have seen old people who were scarcely able to walk hoeing weeds and doing what they could about the farm. Another thing that seemed inhuman. When an old couple was taken to the farm they were separated and were not permitted to sit down together at the end of the day and talk of the time when they were young, happy and prosperous. Interest on a few borrowed dollars was the cause of the greater number of these failures. Deprived them of their homes and all they possessed and sent them on that pathetic journey over the hill to the poor house.

Fellow Citizens: I fail to see the connection between the longevous traits of the Sioux Indians of the South Dakota Territory of a half century ago, or more, and the reason Dr. Townsend leaving South Dakota, unless Mr. Robinson is trying to present an argument in favor of rugged individualism over our present social standards. From his deductions, I suggest we all fold our teepees and head for the "invigorating climate of this territory."

There comes a time when the body of man cannot withstand what it formerly accepted. There are portions of the world that are inhabited by humans that have built up a natural resistance to the extremes of their habitat. Not one man out of ten can successfully withstand the exchange of habitation if his physical inherent tendencies do not lend themselves readily to this exchange. Suffice to say, (and I still make the statement) the ability—or inability—of Dr. Townsend to continue practice in this "invigorating climate" has no bearing on whether he was a success as an M. D., or not. Who is the man that can pass judgment on the success, or failure, of another's life? I am, and was, fully aware of the fact that $100,000 was a good price for any small paper, but who mentioned anything about the value of the paper as being $100,000? I presented the figure of $100,000, as that amount was what it took to "buy out" Mr. Clements' half interest. His investment was a small fraction of this amount, and, as Mr. Robinson upheld the integrity and "semblance of conscience" of Mr. Clements to a certain degree, I presented this fact to discredit this statement. They say some people have a "price" they will "sell out" for. I think Mr. Clements had a double price, and indeed took advantage of the situation. We now come to an interesting point: Mr. Robinson points out that the "Thomasary method of mathematics" MIGHT show that the fifty dollar weekly salary of Dr. Townsend MIGHT take 250 weeks to pay off this $50,000. He then states that it would indeed take 9 years, or a little better, I'd say that the "Robinsonary form of mathematics" was "haywire," because the Thomasary method discloses to yours truly that it would take 19 years and 12 weeks. We all look forward to Mr. Robinson's "such a clear analysis" of the Townsend Plan. His deductions and mathematics, as so far exhibited, should indeed render the analysis amusing if not informative. A. E. THOMAS.

Editor Register: An editorial in The Register of November 11 holds my attention. On November 14 another expresses a similar line of thought—Labor. While Speaker of the House Thomas Brackett Reed said "Labor is the sole cost, all else is the gratuity of Nature." There can be reasons for the slowing up of the exchange of commodities. Let's see just what Labor really is. I accept the definition, that labor is any intelligent effort of brain and brawn whereby something is made that some one wants. Not of necessity that everyone desires (produced instead of made). When we realize that everything consumed as food, with every thing used as clothing, and the material used in the construction of cottage or mansion was produced by labor, what has labor done in the last century or less? It has girded this nation with 24,000 miles of steel. It built embankments. It tunneled mountains. It bridged valleys and streams. It put bits into the teeth of lightning, making electricity subservient to the interests of man. It moved mountains for where the mountain stood the waters of the Pacific flow on their way to the Atlantic. Labor dug the ditch and Nature filled it. There is a structure at Fri o, the admiration of the nation. Who built it? All of these were wealth, but as soon as they began to function, then they instantly ceased being wealth, and became capital. For capital is wealth that labor employs in the production of more wealth. Enough of that line. Someone has said "Give me the control of the money, and I care not who makes the laws." My experience cause me to believe that the someone was right. During the debate on money in the United States senate September 23, 1893, a Republican senator of Nevada, Jones, by name, had the floor, and to illustrate his con-

Nation's Affairs
A Great, Costly DelusionBy WALTER E. SPAHR
Professor of Economics, New York University

The recent Orson Welles radio episode provided the general public with a remarkable example of the ease with which many of our people can be misled. The American people ought to learn a great lesson from the demonstrated proof of their gullibility. The most fundamental difference between the scientific and unscientific person is that the former reaches conclusions through the use of the mind, while the latter is dominated by his emotions. Facts and principles, can be obtained only by training the mind to follow only the well-established lines of procedure—the methodology of science. Scientific procedure requires that judgment be held in abeyance until facts justify a conclusion.

Every person disturbed by the Welles broadcast should realize that he jumped before he looked, and that emotion rather than reason controlled him. He might do well to ask himself whether this is not a common practice with him. Fortunately, the Welles delusion cost the American people practically nothing. It was at least a free show, and for that we may be thankful. But this cannot be said about one of the greatest delusions of the day which, since 1933, has been put over on this nation. This "show" has already cost the American people a debt of $30,000,000,000. The Federal debt alone has gone to 38.5 billion dollars, and apparently will exceed 40.6 billion dollars by June 30, 1939.

If the great mass of American people were ruled by their intellects rather than by blind emotions, they would ask themselves some serious questions about this business which, in the end, they will, or should, discover was a delusion with appalling ramifications. For example: How did the quick and pronounced business recovery of 1921-1923 take place while the government pursued policies almost the direct opposite in nearly every respect of those followed since 1932?

(Address questions to the author, care of this newspaper)

What will happen when the great awakening from the Great Delusion of 1933 to date finally comes—when people realize that they have been fooled and that as a consequence, they and their children will have to pay for this foolishness for years to come? Will they not be even more bitter when they learn that this huge debt is utterly unnecessary, and that much of it represents funds used by the government politicians to de-lude the people and to keep New Dealism in power?

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938 by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Some hue and cry is being raised as to why this Anglo-American trade agreement—if as good as advertised—was held back until after election. Two answers are available.

The official version holds the British responsible. Their shrewd traders thought the New Dealers wanted to complete the agreement in time for political concessions, tried to squeeze concessions out of the government that time limit. U. S. dickers, they say, had to wait in order to get what they were willing to take.

But unofficially you can ascertain that the treaty was highly doubtful election medicine for Dr. Farley's purposes. It might have been received, but mildly, in the wheat belt, so well and not at all mildly, in the textile and manufacturing centers.

Mr. Hull, the great tariff remaker, has now whacked down about one-third of the old Smoot-Hawley tariff law.

No official figures are being given out, but you can figure it fairly accurately this way. Our tariff collections in 1930 amounted to about 47 per cent of the value of goods imported (counting only the dutiable list, of course). Last year, after the state secretary had made 18 tariff agreements, our collections were 37.8 per cent of the value of the goods.

So the first 18 of his blows at the wall reduced its average heights by 9.2 points, or say, roughly, one-fifth. Effect of the British agreement will not be evident until next year, but the best experts expect it to reduce collections to about 31 per cent, a total reduction of roughly one-third from the old tariff attitude.

No one is ordinarily inclined to become analytical over an international flag-raising like this one. Few bystanders customarily finger the bunting to learn whether it is silk. But now the hands are reaching to play, you are apt to hear authoritatively that new trade is to be expected is not soon likely to approximate the cheers, in volume. What pleased officials here most was the timing of the event to give it historical, diplomatic significance. Union of the two great world trade-religion. The schools are supposed to be semi religious, but that as it may, they are organized credit. Why jump on labor? Who in the name of fairness, to say not a word of justice, has a better right to organize? For doctors, lawyers, teachers and druggists. And its OK with me. Why is it thumbs down on labor? It's a haven for those in poor health. They come and are willing to work for anything that an employer will offer. That is what the artisan in California has to contend with. And he has my sympathy. I am a member of organized labor, since 1873. I joined one of the Big Four of the railroads in a corn field. We were that unpopular at that time, but they do respect us, because we are organized.

DIRECTOR GIVES FHA DEADLINES

Due to misunderstanding as to what is actually expiring next June 30, W. G. Bingham, district director, Southern California, Federal Housing Administration, made the announcement today that the 90 per cent of value provision of the National Housing Act does not expire at that time as many have been led to believe.

"What does expire or change under the terms of the Act is the length of time a mortgage may run and the rate of insurance premium," said Bingham.

Still Available
"Under the rules and regulations of the 90 per cent of value FHA insured loans, where the down payment or equity required may be as low as 10 per cent, will still be available, but the maximum period after June 30, 1939, will be 20 years instead of 25.

"Instead of the 1-4 of 1 per cent in force at the present time, on mortgages of $5400 or less, the insurance premium of 1-2 of 1 per cent will apply on all loans regardless of amount."

PHILIPPINES OPTIMISTIC IN 4TH YEAR AS COMMONWEALTH; ISLAND'S FUTURE UP TO U. S.

WASHINGTON, —(UP)—The Philippine Commonwealth will start its fourth year today with high hopes for the successful solution of the many difficult problems that attend the evolution to independence in 1946.

In the third year of autonomous existence under the American flag, the Commonwealth maintained the stable and orderly government which Congress has prescribed as the condition of future independence, the insular commerce strengthened, peace and "normalcy" were maintained in strange contrast to conditions prevalent in many parts of the Far East, and preparatory work was done toward more favorable long term economic relations with the United States.

President Manuel Quezon, occupant of the Malacanang Palace, gained additional political reputation as a statesman bent on realizing the political aspirations of the Filipino people without sacrificing the economic relationships which many impartial authorities hold necessary to independent existence.

Quezon Not Committed
While President Quezon made no binding commitments of political character, Washington had the impression that he would lend an ear to any reasonable and clear proposition that might be advanced by Congress either regarding economies or a possible future re-examination of political status. Key to his attitude, observers here believed, was a deep personal confidence in the intention of President Roosevelt to maintain a friendly and liberal attitude toward the islands.

High Commissioner Paul V. McNutt was a "headline" through-out and he appraised all his official and personal acts in the light of the weight they might cast on the balance of his availability as a Presidential candidate in 1940. McNutt's friends generally felt that he had gained prestige by his activities in the Far East, particularly by his tactful relations with Filipino leaders, but there was a tendency in some circles here to satirize his presidential "boom." In any era of fiscal deficits McNutt's friends—recalling his Indiana administration—advanced the slogan, "He knows arithmetic."

Elizalde Highly Regarded
At Washington, Joaquin M. Elizalde succeeded Quintin Paredes as resident commissioner of the Commonwealth. Elizalde came here with reputation as an able business man and careful student of affairs, and Capitol Hill observers eagerly await his technique in the double-barreled task of advancing Philippine interests while fighting off the attacks against Philippine commodities which regularly are introduced at each session of Congress.

As the third year of the Commonwealth ended there was still a big "X" in Philippine-American relations which tended to make obscure the success of any future move to re-examine political status, namely the undetermined future purpose of the navy with regard to stations or reservations in the islands. The war on the Asiatic mainland rendered untimely any United States decisions concerning western Pacific naval policy.

In the absence of any official pronouncement, army opinion here seemed to strengthen against any defensive responsibilities in the Philippines after the date of independence, while the trend of naval opinion—formerly divided—seemed increasingly inclined to make the Aleutian-Hawaiian-

JOB INSURANCE SCOPE WIDENS SCOUTS TO GET NEW HOME SOON

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 21.—(Special to The Register)—Two billion dollars in wages of California workers in industry and commerce have been subject to job insurance since this year, including the estimated balance of the year, according to contributions received from employers by the state department of employment, James L. Matthews, chairman of the unemployment reserve commission, announced today.

"Our collections since unemployment compensation began in January, 1936, to date, are $126,410,529.30," said Matthews. "Roughly, all employers in industry and commerce, not including agriculture, public service, domestic service, charitable institutions and a few minor classifications, are covered, provided they employ four or more employees."

"The rate of contribution since January, 1938, has been the maximum rate—$2.70 per $100 or wages from employers, and $1.00 per $100 of wages from employees, the latter being deducted by employers and turned in with their own contributions."

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 21.

Plans are being completed for the removal of a house on Lake street to Thirteenth and Main streets, new Girl Scout camp site.

The city is donating the dwelling, recently purchased among other houses in the path of the new Frankfort street cut-off. The cottage will be the new home for the Girl Scouts. Mrs. Adah Kirkpatrick and Mayor M. M. McCallen will select the house this week and City Engineer Harry Overmyer will have it moved.

Overmyer is also in charge of recreation for the city. He is planning the organization of a city-wide marble tournament and the formation of a basketball tournament.

A class in arts and crafts, under the management of the WPA and Overmyer will be started at Lake Park clubhouse immediately for both children and adults. Woodwork, leatherwork, knitting, crocheting, radio building, painting, archery will be taught at the classes.

Recreation centers will also be established at the elementary school and at Triangle park.

THE frazzling pace of these fast-moving times doesn't mean a thing in the life of the dog. Although his complex, high-keyed nervous system closely resembles our own, when the dog feels his nerves tire he settles down—relaxes—as the beagle hound above is doing. That is instinctive with the dog. We are not so likely to break nerve tension before it gets our nerves upset. Ambition and determination push us on and on...past the warning stage

Not all cigarettes can be made from the choicest tobacco, the fine top grades—there isn't enough of it available! Therefore it is important to know that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, November 21.—I've had quite a bit to say about the probable effect of the Dead-End Kids' screen rowdiness on Young America, but it hadn't occurred to me until I talked today with Gabriel Dell that the Dead-Enders, themselves, might be the No. 1 victims.

Gabriel is a quiet, refined, well-educated youngster—the product of an ideal family background. The fact that he started his stage career as a "tough" little gutter-rat is merely proof of his real-life ability, not a comment on his personality. He is sincere in his ambition to go on being a fine actor. And, as now, he's worried. His fan mail proves that audiences everywhere have accepted his screen characterization as fact. To the public, he, and all the other Dead-Enders, have become bonafide hoodlums. Every picture that Warner Brothers makes with them clinches the illusion—and the more prevalent the illusion, the more the willing Warners will be to give the "Kids" normal parts. Gabriel Dell is afraid that his success as a "tough guy" is dooming him to play nothing else.

I think Warner Brothers should do something about it—and do it now. These boys have made the studio money and they deserve the chance to step out of characterizations which are becoming distasteful to them—a chance to prove that they are actors instead of candidates for Sing Sing.

IDOL CHATTER: Allan Mowbray reminds me of Punch without his Judy. Don't put stock in that weary-willie slouch Bing Crosby effects—he has more energy and endurance than most star athletes. Odd that Louise Campbell, who looks like Louise Rainer, should have a voice exactly like Jean Arthur. Height of something or other: the "Gallery of Romance" in a current fan mag, showing Joel McCrea embracing Andrea Leeds on the left-hand page—and Mrs. Joel McCrea (Frances Dee) in the arms of Ronald Colman, on the right.

Never knew anyone who could shake hands with a more ceremonious air than Mischa Auer, Stellar trademarks: John Barrymore's wide-brimmed, rakish hat. Hollywood has had lots of playboys, but the most colorful of them all was Lew Cody. As Freddie Bartholomew grows older, he reminds me more and more of Jimmy Durante—or had you noticed? Wonder if the Sacramento River ever gets tired of doubling for the Mississippi in pictures?

If Frank McHugh can't shoot a hot game of Kelly pool, he believes his appearance. And wouldn't Herbert Marshall make a perfect "front" man for a brokerage house? Filmville pests: the "I-Knew-Him-When" boys who stand on the corner of Hollywood and Vine and pan the passing stars. Thought on seeing Deanna Durbin: "A little child shall lead them—out of the red!" If you've been wondering what happened to that swell kid actor, Ronnie Sinclair, you'll be seeing him in "Christmas Carol."

I'm not superstitious but the influence of that fateful number "three" in all Hollywood affairs is beginning to wear me down. You've often heard that our deaths always come in threes—and so, by some strange coincidence, they do. I've noted repeatedly that our marriages occur in threes, and ditto for our divorces. About two months ago three Paramount actresses, one after another, were rushed to the hospital for appendectomies—Dorothy Lamour, Mary Carlisle and Ellen Drew. And today, checking up on the sinus operation of Elaine Barrie, I suddenly realized that she is the third Filmville lady to undergo such an operation within a few weeks. Claudette Colbert and Mary Parker preceded her by a couple of noses.

Maybe some picture has got away to a more dismal start than the current version of "Hotel Imperial," but if so, I've never heard of it. The first scene filmed was shot at dawn, on a foggy morning, in a small-town graveyard.

About fifteen years ago, Sidney Blackmer was paying on the stage with Richard Bennett. And Joan Bennett—then a school girl—felt that unless he returned her affection life would be a net loss. Mr. Blackmer moved on to other stages and Joan consoled herself with the romantic hope that someday they'd meet again. They did—a few weeks ago—on the set where they played together in "Trade Winds." The first scene called for Joan to shoot him.

Jim Cagney tells about asking one of our biggest actors' agents why he was looking so glum. "It's these damned actors," growled the agent. "I burn 'em up every time I think about them collecting ninety percent of my income!"

MRS. WRIGHT HOSTESS

GROVES TO GET SEWER SERVICE

Sewer service for small orchards and groves in the vicinity of Fullerton will be provided by a WPA project authorized to begin this week, according to announcement today from the Southern California headquarters of the Works Progress Administration.

Empl'y 129 Men
More than 7000 feet of sewer pipe will be laid in Fullerton to connect with the Fullerton-La Habra joint outfall sewer under the project which will employ 129 men through the winter.

The improvement will cost $36,268 of which Fullerton will pay only $2,561.

PET TALKS

—By MRS. T. J. NEAL—

Dogs like the St. Bernards, Great Danes, and Newfoundlanders require large amounts of calcium, phosphorus, and vitamin D to prevent rickets during the periods of their lives when they are growing most rapidly.

How much shall I feed my cat? There are no certain set standards on how much to feed your cat. Some cats require more food than others. The diet should be a variety so that the cat can get all the food values necessary to maintain good health.

Never use liniments or lotions containing turpentine on the skin of dogs. It acts as a violent irritant. I saw a dog the other day running around as though it had suddenly taken a fit; the owner had just massaged the dog with a liniment containing turpentine thinking it would help the dog's rheumatism.

When people say "Boston Bulldog" or "Boston Bull terrier" I wonder if they realize there isn't such a breed. The correct name is Boston terrier. Although the breed is a cross between the Bulldog and the Terrier, it is distinctly of its own type.

The original home of the Afghan Hound is near the Mountain of Moses where Jehovah delivered to Moses the tables of the Ten Commandments.

"Slavery" Ended By School Group

The Latin club pledges formally ended their "slavery" this week by furnishing entertainment for a party planned by their "masters."

The Latin club every semester initiates new members by buying them at a slave sale and demanding that they obey all orders for a designated period of time. This week formally ends their slavery. There were several complaints made at the gathering and a trial was held, the consul, David Martin, presiding. The senate, consisting of representatives from each class, and the other club officers, acted as a jury, and they voiced their decisions in the Roman manner of thumbs down to signify a decision of guilt and thumbs up to signify that the slave was innocent.

Refreshments were served, and dancing completed the evening's entertainment.

Those present were Latin club members with their advisor, Miss Josephine Arnoldy, and two honorary members, Miss Anna Trythall, Latin teacher of the high school, and Miss Mable C. Budd, Latin teacher of Willard Junior High school.

RED CROSS GAVE AID IN 174 DISASTERS DURING PAST YEAR

Editor's Note: Herewith is one of several articles that are appearing in The Register in the interests of the annual American Red Cross Roll Call, which now is under way in Santa Ana and Orange county. The article tells of the type of work accomplished by the institution, locally and throughout the nation and world.

The American Red Cross gave food, clothing, shelter, medical aid and rehabilitated homes in 174 disasters during the past year in the United States, its insular possessions and by contributions to foreign countries.

The number of persons aided in to further and continue the work disaster in the United States during the year was approximately 420,000. In this relief work for disaster victims the Red Cross expended $6,534,810.46.

Of these disasters 129 occurred in 41 states. Only eight states in the union escaped some type of catastrophe during the year. Over a period of 14 years the average has been 89 disasters annually requiring Red Cross relief in the United States.

Disaster relief was the first humanitarian work of the Red Cross immediately after it was organized in 1881 in Washington, D. C., following the action of the U. S. government in approving the Treaty of Geneva.

In the ensuing 57 years the flag of the Red Cross has flown upon every scene of major disaster in the United States. The Red Cross has carried relief—food, clothing, shelter, medical aid, rehabilitation of homes and families—to more than 2200 scenes of disaster, large and small, at home and abroad, and has expended over $140,000,000 in this work of mercy. Thousands of families, left homeless and hopeless by the forces of nature might otherwise have sunk into destitution were it not for the helping hand of this society and of the people who support it, work for it, and inspire it to new effort.

Your membership is needed now.

PHILATELISTS TO GET SEALS

Philatelists were reminded today to be on the outlook this Friday and Saturday for the 1938 Christmas Seals which will be placed in the mails Thanksgiving day by the Orange County Tuberculosis and Health association as a part of its annual fund raising campaign.

Stamp collectors and others who do not receive Christmas Seals in the mail, may secure them at offices of the county tuberculosis association at 112 West Fifth street, Santa Ana, it was announced.

To have a complete set of Christmas Seals, the collector must have 35 different designs even though this is only the 32nd annual seal sale. There were two separate designs in 1907 and four in 1913. One variety of the 1913 seals is now the most valuable of all American Christmas Seals. It is catalogued at $15 per copy. The 1908 seals are worth $8.50 each.

A distinguishing feature of this year's seal is the use of two double-barred crosses instead of one. The only other Christmas Seals so marked were those in 1919 and 1923.

Another feature of the 1938 sheet of 100 seals are the four corner stamps, bearing portraits of Laennec, Koch, Trudeau and Hoiboll, four pioneers of the anti-tuberculosis movement. The use of special corner seals was started in 1935. However, the 1938 sheet is the first to use portraits.

Until 1918, the American Red Cross conducted the annual sale and used its own emblem on the seals. That year's seals bore both the Red Cross and the two double-barred crosses, the emblems of the anti-tuberculosis campaign. Since 1920 the National Tuberculosis association and its local affiliated associations have conducted the Christmas Seal sale and at least one double-barred cross appears on every seal sold to combat tuberculosis in America.

MRS. WATSON HOSTESS
TUSTIN, Nov. 21.—Members of the Neighborhood club met for their regular monthly meeting recently in the lovely home of Mrs. E. A. Watson, Yorba street. The afternoon was spent sewing and refreshments were served by Mrs. Watson to Mesdames Frank H. Greenwood, Hollis Lindsey, Owen A. Murray, Earl Sharpless, Fenlon Matthews and Arthur Trickey.

29,000 PERSONS AT MEETINGS OF SALVATION ARMY IN YEAR

More than 29,000 persons attended meetings of the Salvation Army, Santa Ana corps, during the past year, an annual report submitted by Major John Naton and Mrs. Naton, revealed today.

The report, which thanked all Santa Ana residents who have helped Salvation Army work here by generous donations and other support, show 15,104 persons attended Army open air meetings.

Open Air Sessions
Other figures show 186 open air meetings were held; 2889 soldiers and recruits attended meetings; 304 indoor meetings were held with an attendance of 6752, and 167 young people's meetings were held with an attendance of 4104.

Seven hundred ninety-eight families were given relief, the report states; 417 persons were included in that family group; 12,351 meals were served; 824 garments, 271 pairs of shoes, 106 new blankets and 94 pieces of furniture were given free of charge. Jobs supplied for men totaled 239, for women, 67. Beds furnished to transient men, women and children totaled 4684; meals to transients, including flood victims, 9759; free baths with towel, soap and night shirt, 4834; toys and treats for children at Christmas time, 550, and girls admitted to rescue home, 10.

Mayor Fred C. Rowland, Police Chief Floyd W. Howard, the Disaster Relief Committee and other individuals and groups expressed appreciation in letters to Major and Mrs. Naton.

YEAR-BOOK DRAWS HIGH U. S. RATING

The high school year book, the Ariel, today was judged by the National Scholastic Press Association as a year book worthy of first class honor rating. In the class in which the Ariel competed were 116 other year books, with 13 winning all-American and 54 winning first class honor rating.

The annuals were rated on points, and a total of 750 were needed to receive a first class honor rating; the Ariel scored 895 points which fell not far short of enough points to win an all-American award. Plans are rapidly going forward to make the 1939 annual even a bigger success, and William T. Elliott, faculty advisor, has chosen the business managers who are already planning the pre-sale.

WATERWORKS FUND SET UP

An offer of a federal grant of $39,946 towards the construction of waterworks improvements will be sent immediately to Laguna Beach officials, it was indicated today at the Public Works administration, according to a special dispatch to The Register today from Washington, D.C.

The offer will cover an earmarking of federal funds made Saturday by PWA Administrator Harold L. Ickes as one of 115 such projects, which virtually exhausted PWA's funds.

Must Accept On Time
Local authorities will be given 15 days to sign the offer after it is received, obligating themselves thereby to go ahead with the work, putting up the 55 percent of the estimated $38,771 cost not covered by the $39,946 grant. Failure to accept the offer on time may entail loss of the grant, and cause its assignment to others of the pending applications here. If it is accepted, however, PWA officials here will also sign the document, binding themselves to make advances on the grant as work progresses, provided the project is put under way by January 1.

Strict Compliance
It was understood that PWA would demand strict compliance with its regulations and deadlines since it has only $104,526 remaining of the $724,000,000 which was available for non-federal loans and grants in June, and has many other applicants to whom the money could be given if present sponsors fail to make prompt use of their grants.

The $38,771 project planned for Laguna Beach will provide for construction of two reservoirs, installation of two booster pumps, and necessary pipe lines and connections. The work is necessary because of the addition to the city's service area of land above the 400-foot elevation to which present pumps will lift water.

RAPP IS ELECTED
The position of senior business manager is filled by Howard Rapp, with John Geddes as his assistant. Bob Edwards has been chosen junior business manager, and Francis Geddes is sophomore manager.

"Yes, things do stay cleaner here—
practically everybody uses
Natural Gas"

You notice the cleanness of Southern California's atmosphere most when you compare it with busy communities where natural gas is not available. That is why visitors here so often comment on the delightful freedom from soot.

They see what a difference it makes to have natural gas, a fuel cheap enough for everybody to use and yet so clean that it leaves no residue whatever.

But even more important is the fact that gas brings extra conveniences. It is the fast, effortless way to cook and it provides automatic refrigeration that is permanently silent.

Hager-Keeler
Betrothal Is Told At Party

Engagement of Miss Josephine Keeler, daughter of former Santa Ana Mayor, and Mrs. Marshall Keeler of Balboa Island, and Huston D. Hager Jr., son of the Huston D. Hager of Balboa Island, was announced to an intimate group of guests Saturday at the Doris Kathryn.

The group was received by Mrs. Keeler, wearing a flowered chiffon frock with a corsage bouquet of pink roses and Miss Keeler, attractive in a navy blue lace and net frock with gardenia corsage bouquet.

Yellow and white chrysanthemums in pottery bowls added to the charm of the table at which luncheon was served. Since Mrs. Hager operates the Hager Marine Engine company in Newport Beach, it seemed especially appropriate that place cards should be of ship design. It was found that the cards served a double purpose, for they bore the name of Miss Keeler and her fiancé, with "1938" as the time for the marriage.

The hostesses had planned for an afternoon of bridge, with first prize going to a bride-elect, Miss Mary Knoche, whose engagement to Conrad Busch of the Hawaiian Islands was announced last week.

In the party were Miss Keeler, Mrs. M. L. Keeler and the bridegroom-elect's mother, grandmother and sister, Mrs. H. D. Hager, Mrs. Alma Hager and Miss Jane Hager, with Mrs. R. K. Harvey, Balboa Island; Mrs. J. T. Keeler, Laguna Beach; Miss Mary Knoche, Miss Evelyn Richards, Miss Marjorie Wonder and Mrs. L. M. Forney, all of this community; and Mrs. J. M. Miller Jr., Los Angeles.

Miss Keeler became affiliated with the Santa Ana Junior college, later studying at Orange County Business college. Mr. Hager is a member of the High and Dry Yacht club of Los Angeles.

United Brethren Minister
Presides At Son's Wedding

With a world of friendly interest, members and friends of the United Brethren congregation assembled at the church yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock, for the rites at which their pastor, the Rev. Everett E. Johnson, united in marriage, his son, Myron Glenn Johnson, and a charming northern California girl, Miss Ruth Frederick, daughter of F. C. Frederick of Durham, Calif.

This wedding was the fourth in a Santa Ana ministerial family, within six months, creating much general interest. It was given a beautiful setting, for friends had wreathed the church with the rich shades of autumn chrysanthemums. Lattice work at the altar was twined with ferns and white chrysanthemums, as was an archway soaring between boughs of evergreen. Miss Gertrude Yount and Mrs. H. A. Colby provided the organ music for the bridal program, including the traditional wedding marches. Miss Margaret Nelson, who came from Durham to assist her close friend as a bridesmaid, also was soloist, singing "Hallelujahs." The Misses Marjorie Johnson (sister of the bridegroom), Helen Whitley and Gertrude Yount formed a trio singing "I Love You Truly" and "O Promise Me."

For her bridal gown, Miss Frederick chose white satin with a redingote of misty net. Her finger-top veil was edged with lace, and she carried a formal bouquet of bride roses and bouvardia. Her progress to the altar was on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

Miss Eva Mae Frederick, also of Durham, was her sister's maid of honor, and was gowned in aqua taffeta with which her arm cluster of pale orchid chrysanthemums established a charming contrast. The Misses Marjorie Ruth Johnson in Nu-blue taffeta, and Margaret Nelson in coral taffeta, were bridesmaids and carried identical flower clusters of autumn-hued chrysanthemums.

Mr. Johnson's brother, Donald Johnson, assisted as his best man, with Messrs. Donald Gammell and Arthur Yount completing the wedding party at the altar. Ushers were Messrs. Robert English, Keith Noble, Kenneth Gammell, Royal Gammell, Cassie Johnson and Byron Bates.

It was a very impressive service conducted by the Rev. Mr. Johnson for his son, and interest was heightened by the presence as assistant pastor, of the Rev. E. A. Griffith of the bride's church in Durham.

Buffet Supper Planned
As Pleasant Phase
Of House-Party

Pre-Thanksgiving pleasures were paramount over the week-end in the Wilbur Barr home, 701 East Santa Clara avenue, where an enjoyable house-party was staged with the arrival of Mrs. Barr's mother, Mrs. Florence I. Vincent of San Diego, and the latter's two sons-in-law and daughters, Lieut.-Com. James Pohl and Mrs. Pohl, also of San Diego, and Lieut. Henry Armstrong and Mrs. Armstrong of Long Beach.

The family reunion was preliminary to that which will be enjoyed Thursday, when Mr. and Mrs. Barr and their young son George will be joined by other members of Mrs. Barr's family circle as Thanksgiving dinner guests of Mrs. Vincent and Lieut.-Com. and Mrs. Pohl in San Diego. Complimentary to the guests, the Barrs entertained Saturday evening at supper asking a group of Santa Ana friends to share the hospitality with those from out of the city. Mrs. Barr used a Mexican motif in cloth and candlesticks for the dining room table from which the buffet supper was served, and found the same motif expressing Thanksgiving season at the small tables where guests were grouped in foursomes to enjoy the menu.

Various amusing games were introduced during the evening, and prize winners were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Elstrom, Mrs. Horace Stevens and Edward H. Hall. Commander Stewart Macklin and Mrs. Macklin accompanied Mrs. Vincent and Lieut.-Com. and Mrs. Pohl up from San Diego for the event, while other out-of-town guests included with Lieut. and Mrs. Armstrong of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stover, Mr. and Mrs. James Woodford and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jesson of Claremont.

Marriage Vows
Exchanged In Wedding Manor

A quiet but charming simplicity attended the wedding Saturday evening in Los Angeles, of two well-known Santa Anans, Mrs. Ruth Dysart and Bruce McLean, who exchanged vows at 8:30 o'clock in the Wedding Manor in that city.

The Rev. Dorothea DuBose officiated at the services, for which the bride wore a smart tulle in navy blue pin stripe, with ivory satin blouse. Her hat and other dress accessories were in navy blue. Pinned to the shoulder of her veil was a beautiful corsage of orchids and gardenias.

It seemed quite appropriate that the bride attendants should be Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Mater, for it was through Mrs. Mater that Mr. McLean and Mrs. Dysart first met. The Materos too were wedded only recently in the home of the bride's father, F. P. Nicky. In her position as matron of honor, Mrs. Mater (formerly Mrs. Mabel Trago) also wore a tailored costume in black with all black accessories, and a corsage cluster of gardenias.

Following the quiet nuptial service, the new Mr. and Mrs. McLean were complimented at dinner in Omar's Dome. They have deferred their honeymoon trip until a later date, and have returned to this city where they are at home to their friends at 107 North Olive street.

Mr. McLean, whose parents live in Canada, came to Santa Ana from Riverside about two years ago, and is with the Clausen Furniture company. His bride was lived in this city for the past 30 years and is with the Alquist Dress shop, where she plans to continue for the present. She is the daughter of Mrs. Alice LeFever of Guthrie, Okla.

Class Members Enjoy
Chinese Party

It was almost like a trip to the Orient for Delta Alpha class members of First M. E. church at their November meeting. For as guests of Mrs. Harry Worley in her home at 1708 Ocean boulevard, Balboa, they enjoyed a party in the Chinese manner.

Mrs. Worley, wearing a beautiful Chinese costume, was assisted by her mother, Mrs. George Wiltzie, and by the daughter of the home, Miss Clara Gene Worley, in receiving guests, and in serving tea in Chinese fashion as soon as they arrived. Only a short period was given to the class business routine, in order allow time for inspection of the many curios from the Orient, and the questions they elicited.

Aiding Mrs. Worley in her explanations were Mrs. Albert Steward, recently of Nanking, China, and Mrs. C. E. Holman who had spent a number of years in the Orient. It transpired that the three were able to speak the language of the districts in which they had been stationed, but because of the difference in dialects, none could understand the others. To complete the interesting meeting, Mrs. Worley served typical Chinese refreshments, instructing her guests in the use of chopsticks.

Mrs. Holman, Mrs. Steward and Miss Jessie C. Kempton were special guests sharing the pleasant hospitality of Mrs. Worley and her mother and daughter with Delta Alpha class members. The latter included Mesdames Mary Bowman, Lola Stanley, Bertha Murphy and the Mesdames Gertrude Ladd, Tessie Winter, Minnie Wild, Irma DeBarr, Maude Thomas, Alta Thomas, Elizabeth Sherman, Laura Sherman, Olive Briney, Clara Barnes, Alma Steward and Clara Paddock.

Family Group Attends
Birthday Observance

Adding to the enjoyment of a birthday party honoring Mrs. D. Jones last week was the presence of visitors from Boone, Ia., the former home community of several members of the family assembled for the celebration.

Mrs. Jones' son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. George Hasen-jager gave the affair in their home, 2115 Grand avenue, where dinner was served. A decorated birthday cake and gifts for the honoree were features of the evening.

Among those present were Mr. Jones' sister, Mrs. Anna Heldt of Boone, who is a guest in the Jones home on Grand avenue; and Mrs. Heldt's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Crawford and children, Carla and Corinne of Boone, guests in the Hasen-jager home. The visitors plan to leave for their homes next week.

Completing the party were Mr. and Mrs. Hasen-jager and sons, Donald and Norman, Mr. and Mrs. D. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold

Gala Setting
Is Highlight
Of Fall Dance

Junior Ebell members and their guests reaped a rich harvest of fun and merriment Saturday night when they took part in the society's annual fall dance in the clubhouse peacock room. All of the elaborate decorations for the gay affair were in harvest theme.

Providing a colorful background on the stage were autumn fruits and hand-sprayed foliage whose bright hues were repeated in the appointments devised for the walls. Artistic groupings of strutting turkey figures, harvest fruits and other symbols of the season formed the design of these hand-painted creations done for the occasion by Miss Jean Ferry, chairman of decorations. She was charming in a cherry red velvet frock with rhinestone touches.

Under the leadership of Miss Mary Morton, who has a studio in this city, and Bill Stephenson, formerly of Arthur Murray's studios and now maintaining a studio in Beverly Hills, the Lambeth Walk was danced. This followed a skilful demonstration of modern ballroom dancing given by the two professionals. Flood and spot lights for the occasion were furnished by the Broadway Theatre.

Clarence Williams and his nights of Swing provided rhythmic music from 9:30 to 12:30 o'clock. Miss Gwen Griffin, who secured the orchestra, was charming in a soft pink satin gown.

Among those greeting guests were Mrs. Stanley Norton, general chairman of the affair, in a black crepe frock trimmed in deep blue. Mrs. Newell Vandermaast, ticket chairman, was petite and lovely in her rust-toned skirt with metallic cloth blouse in which green, silver and rust tones were predominant. Mrs. Kenneth Price, chairman of the punch committee, supervised the serving of cider from a table decked with a horn of plenty spilling a luscious-looking assortment of fruits. Mrs. Price's pretty black frock was worn with a silver jacket. Miss Elizabeth Smith, Junior Ebell president, was prominent in arrangements for the affair. She chose a black net frock with black velvet jacket, and wore orchids. Mrs. M. B. Wellington and Mrs. E. D. White, advisors, and Major Wellington, were present. More than 90 young couples enjoyed the evening's festivities.

Jones and children, Marvin and Ina May, this city; Mr. and Mrs. Forest Dummett, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Hage and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Henkel, Southgate. Mrs. Arnold Jones assisted Mrs. Hasen-jager in carrying out plans for the event.

Mrs. Ruth O'Malley, president of Ernest Kellogg auxiliary, was joined by Olive Hadley, Orange; Laura Tierman, Anaheim; and Gladys Bowen, Fullerton presidents, in conducting the session.

A sum was voted for a Christmas party at this hospital, and also it was planned to take care of Christmas gifts for one ward at Sawtelle. On November 21, Mrs. Davis and a group will visit Sawtelle with gifts of magazines, cigarettes and cup cakes. They will be joined that evening by men of the post to attend Past Presidents' night at Los Angeles auxiliary 904.

There were various talks by visiting officers after Mrs. Nichols greeted the groups of her district, and commended the four hostess auxiliaries on their fine exemplification of the work. She was wearing a beautiful gardenia corsage with her pretty frock, and the flowers accompanied the gift of a fine handbag from the four organizations.

For the social hour and refreshments which closed the evening, guests sought the dining room, where yellow chrysanthemums arranged effectively on the tables, ice cream and cake served with coffee by members of the four auxiliaries.

Mixing Bowl

By ANN MEREDITH

For wear with tailored suits or separate skirts there is nothing smarter than a thin pull-over sweater in self or contrasting color. This goes for fat gals as well as thin ones. But now I address myself to those who are definitely this side of the pleasantly plump stage and tell them something more about sweaters: this season the shops are showing cardigan sweaters in silky thin wool, the buttons quite small and close together. Worn as a cardigan the sweater has little to commend it, but listen—

Wear your cardigan buttoned up the back and see how definitely clever it becomes! The ribbed neck is just the right height under a coat collar, the front drapes where it should, and the back is trim and neat.

Hundred-and-fifty pounders, and up, can wear cardigan sweaters buttoned up the back if they will get busy with their calories and their diets. If you have neither, we have both. In fact, the diet sheet has three good diets for your consideration, so the excuse that diet food wears you is no longer good (you can switch diets for a change, y'know). Write to me today for a copy of the NEW diet sheet; please enclose stamped return addressed envelope.

SERIAL STORY LOVERS AWEIGH

BY BETTY WALLACE
COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
JUDY ALCOFF—Admiral's daughter. She faced a choice between two navy suitors.
DWIGHT CAMPBELL—Ambitious lieutenant. He faced a choice between his wife and duty.
JACK HANLEY—Sailing sailor. He faced a test of a patient love.
MARVEL—A S.W.P.C.—navy wife. She faced the test of being a good sailor.

Yesterday: At Marvel's wedding, Judy sees the good-looking blond man who had attended her at the restaurant that day. Tattered, Judy means, "I can't stand it. I can't." Jack replies her.

CHAPTER XIII

"DON'T be a fool!" Jack whispered roughly. His hands closed around her arm, in a vise-like grip. Her mother's head was up, her eyes forward. Pretending nothing had happened.

Judy came to herself with a sick jerk. How could she have made such a fool of herself? Her eyes fastened on the bride, on Dwight, on the face of Commander Hedges, who was the Texarkana's chaplain. She had heard him reading the marriage service for many young Navy men and their brides. She set her mouth. Pray God no one else but Jack and her mother had noticed!

The solemn words of the marriage service rang through the hushed church. "In sickness and in health . . . to love and to cherish . . . for richer or poorer . . . for better or worse . . ."

Dwight was putting the ring on Marvel's finger. "With this token . . ." Judy bit her lip.

And then it was all over. The bride and groom were going up the aisle. Outside, steel flashing in the sunlight, there was an arch of swords. The ushers, standing straight and tall, with their swords uplifted.

There was noise and laughter, and someone said, "Pop! There goes the first flash!" Pictures of the bride. Pictures for the newspapers.

There was a wedding luncheon at the Coronado Hotel. Judy schooled herself sternly. She must get through it! Dwight was married now. Married. She wanted to cry.

THE long dining room was mobbed. There was a lace covered table, and Diane whispering. "It's her own cloth, and her own silver. Isn't it sumptuous?" Rows of repousse forks, heavy silver platters. A frosted wedding cake as big as a punchbowl, with a beribboned wedding bell leaning on its side. There was a centerpiece of orchids—orchid colored and yellow. There were long trays of crisp rolls, iced mousers with pink tops and sections of golden lemons nestling in parsley. Snowy napkins, stacks of exquisite china. At one end of the table an imposing silver coffee pot sat among tiny, priceless cups.

Jack whistled. "I said brown, didn't I?" He added, "I'm hungry. She must have imported a chef from New York. There's little I recognize."

But though he brought Judy a plate loaded with dainties, she couldn't eat. People were toasting the bride, pressing around her. Judy thought desperately. "She won't miss me." And yet she'd have to convey her best wishes. She'd have to look at Dwight and say, "I hope you'll be very happy."

Diane and Bill found them, and Diane said, "Boy, this reminds me of the day Bill and I sneaked around the corner and got married!" She laughed. "He took off on a flight about two hours later, didn't you, darling?"

It was not that they hadn't seen weddings before as beautifully managed as this one. It was simply that everything here shrieked of Marvel's millions. There was no dear, heartfelt tears, nothing that, except for the wedding bell in the cake, would have distinguished this opulent lunch from a thousand other fashionable lunches.

Bill said reflectively, "When he said, 'With this I thee endow,' I was reminded of the old one about the man first who married a millionaire's daughter. Right at that part one of the sailors who I come to the wedding yelled 'There goes that guy's sea-bag!'"

DIANE touched Judy's arm. "Come on, let's get it over with." The four of them—Bill and Jack and Diane and Judy, pushed forward among the laughing guests. Judy almost up: a cup of coffee someone carelessly held in an outstretched hand. "Sorry," she mumbled. She glanced up. It was that man again!

The bride's uncle, a stout, ruddy man in a morning coat, was talking to Admiral Alcott. Dwight was standing beside his bride, obviously impatient. Judy's heart sank. He couldn't wait to get her away from the people—to have her alone. The memory of his kisses on her own mouth was bitter.

But she was the first of the four to say, "I hope you'll be very happy, Marvel. You were the loveliest bride I ever saw."

"Just like a movie wedding," Diane was murmuring. "Darling, it was gorgeous!"

"The best of everything," said Jack, a trifle stiffly. But Bill Bell's laughter boomed out and he cried, "Hey, don't I get to kiss the bride? I thought it was always done."

Marvel's eyes flashed. "Come on," she said, and lifted her face to Bill's.

"Boy!" said Bill. The uncle rocked with laughter. Even Judy's father grinned.

TWO middle-aged women in dark lace, who had sat on the bride's side of the church, came up then. "Marvel, honey, it was too perfect! Oh, darling, I hope you'll be so happy." "Honey, you're the bride of the century. May you always have the best of everything."

"Thanks, Mrs. Kingsley. Thank you, Mrs. Drake," said Marvel. "This is our chance," Diane whispered to Judy, and they withdrew from the group of people around the bride.

"Are they going away on a honeymoon?" Bill asked. "That boy looked nervous."

"They're going somewhere, no doubt," said Diane. "But Mrs. Lane told me Marvel wanted to go to Honolulu and Dwight couldn't get the leave. Not that it wasn't coming to him, but he told Captain Lane he didn't have the money and would rather have the leave later."

"She's got the money," said Bill matter-of-factly. "Darling, would you have liked one about the man first who married a millionaire's daughter. Right at that part one of the sailors who I come to the wedding yelled 'There goes that guy's sea-bag!'"

"That's unkind!" Judy snapped. "Anyhow," Diane concluded. "He wouldn't. He's got sense enough to know how it would look. I can see right now what a happy married life they'll have, with her wanting to splurge and him trying not to be a naval squire."

"It sounds like a group of old maids—gossipy old maids!" said Judy definitely ending the conversation. But in her heart, she was thinking, "It's true. It's true. He'll never be happy with her." (To Be Continued)

CONFECTIONERY PLANNED

WESTMINSTER, Nov. 21.—A new business, a combined lunch room and confectionery is shortly to be located at New Westminster, the foundation of the new stucco building to be started Monday at the southeast corner of Eighteenth street and Huntington Beach boulevard. The owners are Mr. and Mrs. Verne Heath, formerly of Long Beach, who three months ago purchased a home on Rhonda street. A five-room stucco residence is under construction on Fifteenth street. The owners plan on coming to New Westminster from Long Beach to reside with the completion of the new home.

Nearly 200 new varieties of daffodils are discovered every year.
